

Mendeley in 4 steps

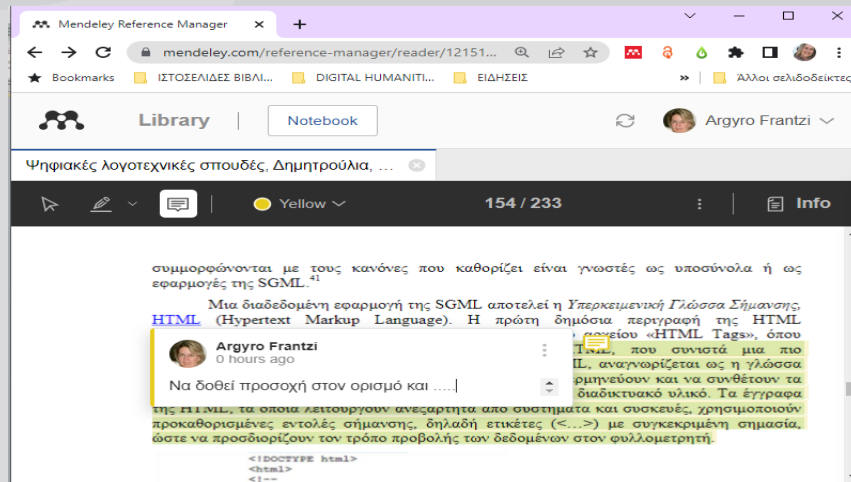

1

Download full-text documents and bibliographic references directly from academic search engines such as Scopus, J-Stor, Project Muse, and others

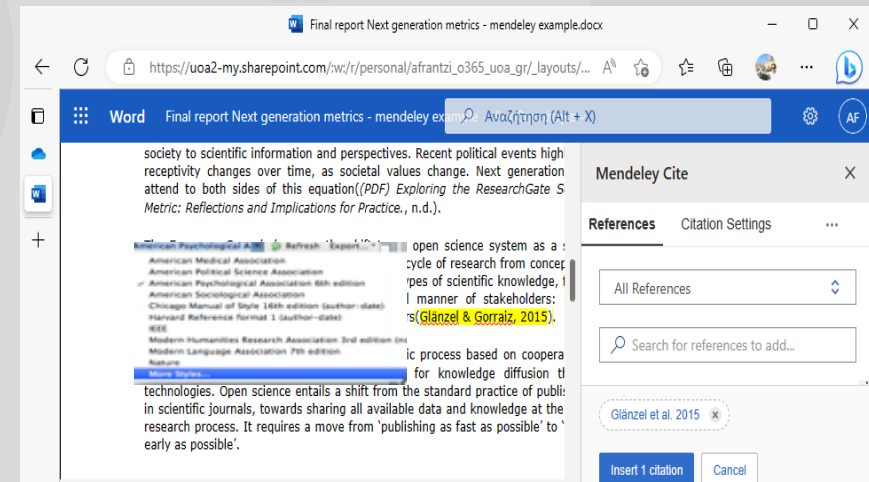

2

Search for and organize all your documents, references, and notes in one place. Access everything online or offline and on various devices.

3

Search, read, and comment on documents together with other members of your research team.

4

Create references and bibliographies in the style of your choice (Harvard, Chicago, etc.) with a single click.
